Floyd man killed in Va. pile-up

by Lilly Adkins
ASSOCIATE EDITOR

CARROLL COUNTY, Va. — A Floyd County man was among three killed Easter Sunday in a 95-vehicle pile-up on Interstate 77 in Southwest Virginia.

William M. Sosebee, 33, of Allen, was a passenger in a vehicle that collided with a tractor-trailer in the southbound lanes of I-77 and died at the scene, according to news reports.

Virginia State Police officials reportedly said that dense fog and excessive speed was the cause of the 17 different crashes, in which three people were killed and more than 25 others injured.

Sgt. Michael Conroy with the Virginia State Police told television reporters that there was an incident in the front and then the other drivers couldn't stop in time. Drivers said they could barely see anything when the chain reaction collisions started, according to reports.

The pile-up reportedly began at approximately 1 p.m. Sunday between mile markers 6 and 5 of the southbound lane of the interstate in Fancy Gap. Six to eight of the vehicles at the center of the pile-up caught fire, reports said.

Approximately a 30-mile stretch of I-77 was closed for several hours to allow wreckers, rescue workers and emergency personnel on the scene, which Conroy estimated stretched

CVE officer pleads not guilty

LOUISA — Kentucky Commercial Vehicle Enforcement officer Darvin Marsillett pleaded not guilty at his arraignment in Lawrence District Court March 27 and is scheduled for a pretrial hearing April 10.

Marsillett is charged with fourth-degree assault in connection with a Feb. 21 arrest in Lawrence County in which the owner of three coal trucks, Bobby J. Adkins Jr. of Fort Gay, W.Va. was cited for traffic violations and additionally charged with multiple offenses, including assault on the officer and obstructing governmental operations and the trucks were impounded.

Marsillett is represented by attorney C. David Mussetter of Catlettsburg, who said he would be filing a motion to dismiss the charge and also asked that Lawrence County Attorney Mike Hogan recuse himself as prosecutor because he had become involved in the case when he went to the scene of the traffic stop.

District Court Judge Susan Mullins Johnson said she couldn't imagine that Hogan would want to be involved in the case.

"I planned to prosecute the case," Hogan said. "I was not a witness, so there is no reason why I should recuse myself."

TWO-CAR CRASH

FIVE PEOPLE WERE transported by NetCare Ambulance Service after being injured in an accident Thursday in Lawrence County including Cora Cyrus, Aley E. Cyrus II, Crystal Copley, Teresa Perry and Tamarea Bailey. The collision occurred at the intersection of routes 3 and 32. According to the collision report, statements made by both drivers, Cora Cyrus of Fort Gay, W.Va. and Perry, of Blaine, Cora Cyrus was attempting to make a left turn down into Louisa when she turned into the path of Perry, who was heading north and going straight. BSN photo/Lilly Adkins

Legislation by area lawmakers approved during session

by Tony Fyffe
BSN MANAGING EDITOR

FRANKFORT — Bills by state Reps. Greg Stumbo and Hubert Collins, and Sen. Johnny Ray Turner were among those passed by the General Assembly during its 2013 session that ended last week.

Five bills sponsored by Stumbo, a Prestonsburg Democrat who is also House speaker, were approved by both chambers during the session.

Among those was House Bill 1, which supporters say will boost transparency and accountability for the more than 1,200 special taxing districts across the state.

The bill will put education and ethics rules in place for special districts and create an online central registry to publicly disclose their annual budgets and other pertinent information. The bill will require the taxing districts to submit budget reports to fiscal courts.

If a special district wants to impose a new fee or increase the rate of an existing tax, it will need to hold a public hearing in conjunction with a fiscal BETSY LAYNE — Officials are searching for a female who brandished a weapon and demanded cash at Velocity Market in the Betsy Layne community of Floyd County Saturday night.

According to a press release issued by the Kentucky State Police, officers responded to a complaint of an armed robbery at the Velocity Market.

Information at the scene indicated that an unidentified female entered the business, brandished a weapon, demanded cash and then left the area on foot.

Information was not available regarding the amount of cash taken during the robbery nor the direction of travel the woman took when leaving the market.

The female is described as being 5 feet to 5'3 tall, wearing black pants, a tan coat and having a green shroud over her face.

The incident remains under investigation by Kentucky State Police Det. Jason Dials. Anyone with information is encouraged to contact the KSP at Post 9 at (606) 433-7711 or 1-800-222-5555.

The Velocity Market incident is the latest in a series of robberies in the Big Sandy region.

Martha residents accused of making methamphetamine

Tiffany R. Beverly

Robert Parker

MARTHA — Two people were arrested in Lawrence County March 30 for allegedly manufacturing methamphetamine while being served with an indictment from Johnson County.

Tiffany R. Beverly, 23, and Robert Parker, 29, both of Martha, are charged with manufacturing methamphetamine.

Beverly and Parker were also served with indictments from Johnson County in which she is charged with first-degree possession of a controlled substance and he is charged with operating a motor vehicle under the influence of alcohol or drugs (aggravating circumstances) and persistent felony offender.

According to the police report, Lawrence County chief sheriff's deputy Mark Wheeler went to 21668 Highway 32 in Louisa to serve Beverly and Parker with indictments and investigate a possible meth lab.

Beverly and Parker were located inside a closet and were advised of their rights, but waived them and signed consent to search, the report said.

"A child was present in the home at the time of the arrest," Wheeler said. "I have to contact social services today to let them know what happened."

Wheeler said in the report that a bowl used the night before to make meth, along with tubing, coffee filters, lighter fluid, Sudafed blister-pack, a mason jar, syringes, light bulbs and a hairdryer used to dry meth along with other items used in meth making and using were found inside the couple's bedroom.

Beverly and Parker told Wheeler that two men came to the residence at midnight and cooked meth and she was aware and let them finish, according to the report. They used items of hers and Parker's, and she also smoked some when she was alone, the report said.

Parker said in the report that he helped during the meth making process and then used meth afterward.

Beverly and Parker were arrested in Johnson County October 25, 2012, in the Brown Branch area of Sitka on charges involving a meth lab.

A press release issued by the Johnson County Sheriff's Office at the time said the rental property owner asked them to check the location for a possible meth lab. After being granted a consent to search, the officers, once inside the residence, discovered an active meth lab in a bedroom and remnants of an older lab as well as various items used in the manufacturing of methamphetamine.

An indictment was issued against

Mussetter said he plans on filing the motions to have Hogan recuse himself and for dismissal of the charge. Adkins was originally scheduled to appear in court for a preliminary hearing of the charges against him, but was indicted by the Lawrence County Grand Jury prior to the preliminary hearing.

Marsillett was served with a subpoena to produce documentation regarding the arrest for an upcoming event scheduled in Lawrence Circuit Court April 2 in the Adkins' case.

Adkins, 34, of Louisa, was indicted March 8 on charges of third-degree assault, obstructing governmental operations, resisting arrest, license to be in possession, no registration receipt and failure to produce insurance.

According to the indictment, on or about Feb. 21, Adkins allegedly knowingly and unlawfully caused physical injury or attempted to cause physical injury to Marsillett, who attempted to place the defendant under arrest; used or threatened to use violence, force or physical interference against Marsillett in the discharge of his duty as a police officer; attempted to prevent Marsillett from affecting an arrest while he was acting in official capacity as a police officer; failed to have his operator's license when requested to produce the license and was operating a motor vehicle without the registration receipt issued by the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet through the county clerk, which should be constantly in his possession; and failed to display the registration receipt on the rear registration plate of the motor vehicle; and failed to keep an insurance card.

Supplemental reports filed by the officers who made the traffic stop alleged that Adkins became irate and refused to leave the scene and after multiple attempts to get him to leave were unsuccessful, he was taken into custody, but not without incident. Adkins allegedly made an attempt to strike the officer, the report said.

Adkins filed a complaint Feb. 25 against Marsillett, alleging that the officer "without provocation put affiant in a headlock, slammed him on the ground and slammed his knee to his skull and back of neck."

CVE officers claim Hogan arrived on the scene of the traffic stop and tried to interfere in the situation. Hogan said in an interview with The Big Sandy News that he went to the scene "to assist with the situation" after being contacted by Adkins' father. He also said Adkins had originally come to the scene in order to provide proof to the officers that the trucks were legal to operate, but they refused it.

Prevention, Investigation, Treatment and Prosecution of Child Abuse

What is G.U.S.?
The letters stand for Growing Up Safe. It is a non-profit organization of professionals and citizens who are interested in protecting children in your County.

- What does G.U.S. do?
- a) GUS coordinates professional services so that abused children receive the best, most effective care available.
 - b) Team members meet once each month to monitor and coordinate the investigation and prosecution of child abuse cases.
 - c) Discussions are held about ways to monitor and coordinate the investigation and prosecution of child abuse cases.
 - d) Specific needs in the community are discussed in the hopes that, through cooperation of the different agencies involved, these needs may be better met.
 - e) The group raises money to help those specific needs, which may include medical exams for victims of abuse, transportation and training materials, educational programs in all the schools as well as awareness projects.
 - f) A Victim Advocate is available to assist and support victims of abuse and their families.

G.U.S.
A community based multi-disciplinary team that advocates/manages the prevention, investigation, prosecution and treatment of child sexual abuse.

PURPOSE
Coordination of services that increase the protection network for children.

GOALS
Timely prosecution of perpetrators in sexual abuse;
Support for victims of sexual abuse;
Educate the public as to sexual abuse issues.

- POSSIBLE SIGNS OF ABUSE
- a) has unusual knowledge of, or interest in sexual matters and expresses affection in inappropriate ways for their age;
 - b) unexplained burns, bruises, broken bones, black eyes (especially after an absence from school);
 - c) appears depressed, suicidal and/or promiscuous;
 - d) lacks attachment to parents and peers;
 - e) fears physical contact;

MEGAN'S LAW Sex Offender Registration And Notification

Under Kentucky law, everyone convicted of a felony sex offense (and all sex offenses against a child) must register with the local probation officer upon release. The period of registration is 10 years or lifetime depending upon the offender's criminal history. The offender must notify the appropriate officer before they move. Failure to comply with these registration requirements is a felony. Community notification is now done by the Kentucky State Police. Their website has information about every registered sex offender in the state. You can access their site at kpspsor.state.ky.us.

VICTIM SERVICES PROGRAM

Mountain Comprehensive Care Center
Helpline 1-800-422-1060 • www.mtcomp.org
The Victim Services Program specializes in services for victims of sexual assault and domestic violence.

- The Victim Services Program provides:
1. Counseling/Therapy - Outpatient services are provided to victims and their family to help them recover from the trauma of abuse.
 2. Advocacy - Legal and Medical Advocacy are available, free of charge. The legal advocate assists victims at court proceedings, criminal justice meetings, and provides support during the legal process. The medical advocate accompanies survivors at hospital emergency rooms when victims are being seen for sexual assault and/or domestic violence. The medical advocate assists in providing information about services and provides emotional support to the victim.
 3. Educational Outreach - Presentations are available, free of charge, to the general public, community groups, civic groups, and other interested groups. In-service training is also available to various professional groups.
 4. Consultation and Referral - Staff assists victims with filing Victim Compensation claims. Free consultation to area professionals working with rape, sexual assault, domestic violence, and child abuse survivors.

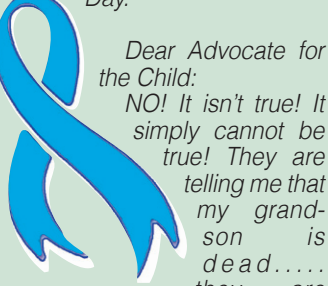

Specialized Services:
Regional Administrative Office - 886-4397
Johnson County Outpatient Clinic - 789-3518
Martin County Outpatient Clinic - 298-7902
Floyd County Outpatient Clinic - 886-4350
Pike County Outpatient Clinic - 432-3143

The Victim Services Program has a few simple ways each of us can help prevent child abuse and neglect:

1. Be a nurturing parent. Children need to know that they are special and loved.
2. Help a friend, neighbor or relative. Being a parent isn't easy. Someone you know may be struggling with his or her parenting responsibilities. Offer a helping hand.
3. Help yourself. When the big and little problems of every day life pile up to the point you feel overwhelmed and out of control, take a time out. Don't take it out on your child.
4. If your baby cries...It can be very frustrating to hear your baby cry, especially when nothing you do seems to work. Learn what to do if your baby doesn't stop crying. But never shake a baby!
5. Get involved. Advocate for services to families.
6. Monitor your child's television and computer use. Watching violent films on television or playing violent computer games can harm young children. Not only does it scare them, it also teaches children that aggression is a good way to handle frustration and solve problems.
7. Spend time playing with your children...or read to them.
8. Report suspected abuse and neglect. Keeping children safe is the responsibility of every one in our community. If you have reason to believe a child has been or may be harmed, call 1-800-432-9251.

How The Blue Ribbon Campaign Began...

Dear Advocate for the Child:
NO! It isn't true! It simply cannot be true! They are telling me that my grandson is dead.... they are w r o n g ! There has been some mistake...Bubba is fine... but deep in my heart, I knew it was true for I have not seen him in...weeks. It's been so long since I sat by his side in the hospital. Of course I knew something was wrong as I sat there. I saw fear on his face, the bruises on his body, and the healing cigarette burns on his hands. His doctor did not believe my daughter's story... "he fell in slippery water in the bathtub"...I felt sick...I didn't understand...Are my granddaughters all right? Where are they?

I only had one child. She was my beautiful little girl. She was the light of our eyes. WE knew she had entered into a stormy marriage, for we brought her home several times in the five years the marriage lasted. We suspected heavy use of drugs... BUT...in those five years three beautiful, healthy children had been born. I love them dearly, and they loved me. The children were 16 months, 3 years and 4 years old.

After the ordeal at the hospital my grandson was placed into foster care for three weeks. He cried when they came to take him back to his mother. He told his foster mother, "my mama don't love me" and he begged to stay. I ached for his dilemma. I was not physically able to care for him. The courts seemed to believe that home was the best place for him...but I knew better and I told them. I begged them not to return him to his mother. But, I was overruled. My instinct as a grandmother did not count.

I never saw Bubba again. My 16 month old granddaughter was hospitalized after being beaten severely...her leg broken in four places, and her hand burned from the tip of her little fingers to her wrist. It was only then that the "search was on" for Bubba. We learned that he had been killed, wrapped in a sheet, stuffed in a tool box, and dumped into the Dismal Swamp three months earlier.

My grandchildren had suffered and battled so much throughout their young lives that it sickened me. My life was turned into physical and mental chaos. My efforts to understand became a plea to stop abusing children. I tied a blue ribbon on my van antenna to make people wonder. It caught on locally with restaurants, businesses, police, and TV and radio stations supporting me in my efforts to make it a real awareness campaign.

Why blue? I intend never to forget the battered, bruised bodies of my grandchildren. Blue serves as a constant reminder to me to fight for protection for our children. Every day I pray that our children will be allowed to hear the sounds of a different drummer.

Join me...we must protect our most precious gift of all...our children. Please, wear a blue ribbon...put one on your car...give one to your friends...tell them what it means...you may save a child's life!

If you suspect ANYTHING is happening to your children...your grandchildren...the child next door...PLEASE ACT! If you get no response, try again! You may not hear their screams...you may not see their bruises...so check for the pain and the screams in their eyes...Watch...for the screams in their eyes.

Division of Protection and Permanency

The Division of Protection and Permanency is mandated by Kentucky statutes to investigate any report of suspected abuse or neglect of children, spouses, and adults. Protection and Permanency offers protective services toward safeguarding the welfare of a child and to work toward preventing further abuse, neglect or dependency. This agency is also mandated to preserve and strengthen family life where possible by enhancing parental capacity for adequate child care.

Each county in Kentucky has a local Division of Protection and Permanency office. The Social Services workers provide various services including conducting initial assessments of abuse/neglect, protective service investigations, resource linkages, ongoing social work services, recruitment and certification of foster and adoptive homes.

Every 47 seconds a child is abused and every 14 minutes a child dies. Each of us must take responsibility in protecting children from harm in their home as in the community. If you know or suspect a child is being abused or neglected, please call your local Division of Protection and Permanency or the toll free 24-hour abuse hotline at 1-800-752-6200.

Judi's Place For Kids

106 Williamson St., Pikeville, KY 41501 • 1-866-437-7447
Services: Floyd, Johnson, Magoffin, Martin and Pike County

Judi's Place operates much like the description of Hope's Place above, a place where an abused child does not have to be victimized again and to ensure that citizens are protected from false claims.

Child Advocacy Centers Help Children Who Have Been Abused

Currently, when a child discloses that she or he has been sexually abused, the child and family is required to go through a series of revolving doors. Following the disclosure, the child will be interviewed at the police station, social services, and the prosecutor's office; a medical examination could be performed at the hospital emergency room, doctor's office or health department; and counseling appointments would be held at a therapist's office. The Child Advocacy Center will allow for all these appointments to be held at one location that is comfortable for the child.

Domestic Violence and Your Child

In homes where physical, mental, or emotional abuse of children occurs, unfortunately, it is all too often that domestic violence is also present. How can you tell if a child may be living in a violent home? Here are some warning signs:

For preschool children they include:

- Frequent crying
- Wanting to be held all the time or stiffening when held
- Frequent hitting, biting or kicking
- Stuttering
- Regression (for example, a return to thumb-sucking or bed-wetting)

For school-age children, they include

- Trouble concentrating at school
- Unusual knowledge of sex or violence for their age
- Fighting, bullying or self-abuse
- Stealing, cheating or lying
- Regression (seeking constant attention, using "baby talk" etc.)

For teenagers, they include:

- Running away from home or dropping out of school
- STDs (sexually transmitted diseases), teen pregnancy or prostitution
- Joining a gang, committing crimes, using weapons
- Problems with alcohol, tobacco or other drugs
- Talking about or attempting suicide

Children in violent homes are at special risk for emotional and developmental problems. Never ignore the warning signs!

If you or a member of your family has been the victim of domestic violence, there are people to help you or a loved one through the violence. For more information, contact the Commonwealth's Attorney at 606-788-7088, or call Heather Harrison at 606-298-0099 or 270-307-8440.

If not for you, then do it for your children.

court meeting.

Stumbo's HB 5 addresses prompt payment of Medicaid claims by managed-care companies.

Among other things, the bill establishes an appeals process in the Department of Insurance to handle disputes between managed-care companies and medical providers. Those disputes are currently handled by the Cabinet for Health and Family Services.

Another successful Stumbo bill, HB 7, authorizes six state universities to issue agency bonds for 11 specific building construction projects at a collective cost of approximately $363 million. The projects will be funded by the universities' own revenue streams, not state dollars.

Stumbo also sponsored a bill that amends a portion of the new so-called "pill mill law" concerning pain management clinics and other controlled substances-related issues.

HB 217 makes adjustments to the law approved last year by easing some reporting requirements when pain medications are dispensed for legitimate needs while upholding the original bill's intention of stopping prescription drug abuse.

Mandatory reporting to the Kentucky All-Schedule Prescription Electronic Reporting system (KASPER) will be lifted for hospitals and long-term care facilities. Exemptions would also be made for post-surgery patients, end-of-life patients, and some specified other patients with a clear medical need for increased pain management.

Another bill sponsored by Stumbo that was passed during the session was HB 260, which relates to tax increment financing. The bill allows the Kentucky Economic Development Finance Authority to reduce from $200 million to $150 million the maximum capital investment required on certain signature TIF projects.

Collins, a Wittensville Democrat, saw four of his bills approved during the session.

HB 63 clarifies the prohibitions established for trustees and employees of the board of the legislative judicial retirement system, while HB 173 clarifies the eligibility of motor vehicles leased by local governments to bear official license plates.

Collins' HB 174 creates a transit tag for vehicles purchased in Kentucky to be transported out of state. The tags will be valid for 15 days from issuance, with the expiration date to be shown on the tag in a tamper-resistant manner.

HB 313 clarifies that vehicles in possession of a dealer or auction dealer, for the purpose of sale where ownership has not been transferred to the dealer, to be taxed as goods held for sale in the regular course of business as with all other vehicles held for sale in the inventory of a licensed dealer.

Turner, a Democrat from Prestonsburg, had one bill passed during the legislative session.

His Senate Bill 98 will allow county law library trustees in counties that fund the county law library to purchase equipment and to house materials and equipment in a Court of Justice facility.

Other bills passed during the session include:

- House Bill 290, which will establish by statute an independent review panel to investigate cases of child deaths and near-fatal injuries. The panel will be given access to complete records of the Cabinet for Health and Family Services, as well as information from law enforcement and other agencies involved in the cases.

- Senate Bill 15, named the Bryan Durman Act in honor of a Lexington police officer who was killed by a hit-and-run driver in 2010, which will ensure that a person convicted of criminal homicide in the killing of a police or fighter on duty doesn't become eligible for probation or parole until 85 percent of a sentence is served.

- HB 41, which will allow some felony offenders in prison or under state supervision to request testing and analysis of their DNA as case evidence.

- SB 50, which creates an administrative framework for the growing of hemp in Kentucky if the crop is legalized by the federal government.

- HB 3, which will strengthen human trafficking laws while protecting victims from prosecution for crimes they were forced to commit. The legislation will offer assistance to agencies responsible for helping human trafficking victims by creating a "human trafficking victims fund" supported by service fees paid by convicted human traffickers, proceeds from seized and forfeited assets of traffickers, and any grants, contributions, or other funds that may become available.

- SB 1, which will make the absentee voting process easier for Kentuckians serving overseas in the military. The legislation will allow members of the armed forces, their spouses and others serving overseas to register to vote and request and receive absentee ballots electronically.

- SB 125, which will include critical congenital heart disease testing as part of the newborn screening program.

- HB 164, which will allow people to use electronic insurance cards on their smart phones or other electronic devices as proof of motor vehicle insurance. Drivers will still be required to keep paper insurance cards in their vehicles.

- SB 2, which will offer a plan to ease the state's public pension debt and HB 440 offers a financing component to the plan. SB 2 will require the state to contribute the full amount recommended by actuaries to the pension system each year beginning in fiscal year 2015. Rather than a defined-benefit plan, the legislation offers future public workers a hybrid cash balance plan with a guaranteed four percent return on contributions. On the funding side of the issue, HB 440 will generate almost $100 million a year from tax changes that include a $10 reduction in the personal income tax credit, a trade-in credit for new cars, a cap on vendor compensation for sales tax collection, and enhanced collection efforts by the state Department of Revenue.

- HB 279, which specifies that government shall not burden a person's freedom of religion. The legislation states that an action motivated by a sincerely held religious belief cannot be infringed upon without a compelling governmental interest. HB 279 was vetoed by the governor; the veto was overridden by the House and Senate.

- SB 64, which will ensure that students earning Kentucky Educational Excellence Scholarships aren't penalized in the amount of scholarship money they receive if they graduate from high school in three years rather than four.

- SB 97, which will allow school districts to increase the compulsory attendance age to 18 beginning in the 2015 school year. Districts that do so must have programs and resources in place for students at-risk of not graduating. The increased compulsory attendance age will become mandatory statewide four years after 55 percent of Kentucky school districts adopt it.

- HB 172, which will encourage schools to possess at least two epinephrine auto-injectors in case one is needed for a student having a life-threatening allergic or anaphylactic reaction.

- SB 72, which will require attendance at suicide prevention training programs at least once every six years for social workers, marriage and family therapists, professional counselors, fee-based pastoral counselors, alcohol and drug counselors, psychologists, and occupational therapists.

- HB 8, which will continue the state's efforts to update laws regarding synthetic drugs to ensure that newly developed, harmful synthetic drugs are listed as controlled substances.

- HB 180, which will require the Kentucky Board of Education to establish a statewide evaluation system for all certified personnel. The Department of Education, in consultation with teacher and principal steering committees, will develop the system prior to the 2014-2015 school year.

- SB 95, which will extend the five-year tuition waiver eligibility period for adopted children who serve in the military.

- HB 222, which will establish a crime victim protection program in the Secretary of State's Office to allow domestic violence victims to have personal information, such as addresses, redacted from public voter registration roles. The legislation will also allow victims in the program to vote by mail-in absentee ballot.

'Road to Fame' auditions set

Over the upcoming weeks, hundreds of contestants between the ages of 13-35 will showcase their talent in closed auditions for the opening of the Country Music Highway "Road to Fame" competition in Eastern Kentucky.

The "Road to Fame" competition is searching for the next potential star to come from Kentucky's Country Music Highway, an area along U.S. 23 in Eastern Kentucky.

In auditions set to begin Saturday, "Road to Fame" judges will choose 80 contestants to continue their journey and advance to one of four qualification rounds, to be judged by Nashville, Tenn., Music Row executives, held May 3, 4, 11 and 12, with site locations to be announced later.

"The talent found in Eastern Kentucky has been clearly shown throughout the 2012 competition," said Bernard Porter, a "Road to Fame" judge. "We look forward to discovering who the next Country Music Highway 'Road To Fame' winner will be for 2013."

Audition dates are Saturday, April 6, at 1 p.m. at Hampton Inn in Pikeville; Sunday, April 7, at 1 p.m. at Jenny Wiley State Park in Prestonsburg; Saturday, April 27, at Fannin Motors in Ashland; and Sunday, April 28, at 1 p.m. at the Ramada in Paintsville.

The winner, as well as the top 10 finalists, will act as ambassadors representing the Country Music Highway at various events throughout the year and will help promote the 2013 'Road to Fame' competition.

For more information on the competition, visit www.cmhroadtofame.com or contact Terry Trimble at 606-886-2374 or terry.trimble@bigsandy.com.

CHILD ABUSE PREVENTION

PAINTSVILLE MAYOR BOB Porter signed a proclamation Monday calling April as Child Abuse Prevention Month in Paintsville. In celebration of the special month, the Cabinet for Health and Family Services in Johnson County and community partners will have "Kids Day, Fun Day" Saturday, April 13, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Paintsville Recreation Center. The event will include food, prizes, inflatables and games. BSN photo/Steven McDavid

Girl Scouts help animal shelter

PAINTSVILLE — Girl Scouts Troop 40 is hosting an animal shelter shower to benefit Whiskers or Wags (WOW), the Johnson County Animal Shelter project.

"April Showers Bring Animal Power" is a slogan that members of the troop will be spreading across the community.

"For five years in a row, Kentucky has remained the worse state in the nation for animal abuse, according to research from the animal legal defense fund," Girl Scout Troop 40 co-leader Shawna Howell said. "To kick off Kentucky's Animal Week celebrated on April 6th, our troop has partnered with WOW to change the public perception on animal treatment and to save animal lives."

In Johnson County last year alone, 462 dogs were transported to the county garage by the dog catcher. Forty-three dogs were rescued by WOW ; however, in 2011, over 600 dogs were transported to the garage and none were rescued. County garage staff explained the lack of rescue was due to the fact WOW had not yet been formed. Unless rescued, dogs and cats were euthanized.

Since the time it was founded, WOW volunteers have been pushing to open the animal shelter, and only recently have they been offered property for this purpose.

"Beginning in April and lasting until June, each scout will chose a specific duty to help save these pets lives," Howell said, adding that every animal deserves a chance.

The girls — Samarra Howell, Brooke Collins, Courtney Patrick, Chelsey Spradlin, and Emily and Hillary Boyd — duties will consist of collecting newspapers and clipping coupons, launching a media campaign to improve animal treatment, collecting donations from local businesses and schools, gathering material to disburse to the public on proper animal treatment, and coordinating troop trainings and tours on pet safety. Girl Scouts will also recycle shirts, sweaters and odd socks by hand-making dog rope toys, dog beds, and cat nipped toys.

Troop 40 is also collecting dog/cat food, dog/cat treats, dog/cat toys, kennels, leashes, collars, dog houses, newspapers, towels, blankets, sheets, gloves, and grooming supplies. Donations can be placed in drop boxes located at the Paintsville Fire Department, Paintsville Recreation Center, Highland Veterinary Clinic, Paintsville Elementary School, Central Elementary School, The Paintsville Herald, The Big Sandy News, Johnson County Sheriff's Office and Paintsville City Hall. Other organizations that will be participating by collecting are the following: Paul

B. Hall, Salvation Army, Blockhouse Bottom Church of Christ, and St. Michael's Catholic Church. All donations are tax deductible.

Founding WOW member and District Court Judge Susan Johnson said the group is also in need of foster families and monetary donations toward the animal shelter. Donations can be made by making checks payable to WOW and mailing them to P.O. Box 1313 Paintsville, KY 41240.

"Depending on the success of the project, these Girl Scouts could earn their bronze award," Howell said.

The bronze award is the highest-level award a Junior Girl Scout can earn. It is achieved by exploring their community, choosing a project, making a plan, putting the plan in motion, and spreading the word, according to Girl Scout Web sites.

"This is a win/win situation for everyone," Howell said. "You get to help save animals lives and help youth."

Communities

Free screening events set for May

MARTIN — Saint Joseph Martin, part of KentuckyOne Health, will join with other health and community organizations to offer free screenings and information at a series of health education events hosted by Project Caring Across the County beginning in May.

Project Caring Across the County is a local organization of health care professionals that includes Big Sandy Health Care, Floyd County Family Resource Youth Services Centers, Floyd County Health Department, Floyd County Schools and Saint Joseph Martin.

Eight days of health screenings and educational events will be held throughout May and July at various locations in the county. The events will provide easy access to free health screenings and information for the community.

The health fair events are planned for May 22-23 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Floyd County Health Department; June 26-27 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Betsy Layne Elementary School; and July 16-17 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Allen Central High School.

Services available at the events will include physical exams; women breast and cervical cancer screening; diabetes screenings; dental care for adults such as cleaning, fillings and extractions; colon cancer screenings; and health information on smoking cessation, heart health and cancer.

Services will be available on a first-come, first-served basis. Light refreshments will be offered to accommodate those seeking multiple services. Many of the services available are for persons who are uninsured and income-eligible. Dental services will be available for persons 21 and older without dental insurance.

The events are part of ongoing efforts stemming from the Healthy Community Initiative, which began in 2003 when Saint Joseph Martin led an effort to bring health and community organizations in Floyd County together to maximize the county's resources and create a healthier community. Project Caring Across the County is part of the overall Healthy Community Initiative. Partners in the initiative include the American Cancer Society, Big Sandy Area Development District, Big Sandy Community College, Big Sandy Health Care, Floyd County Extension Office, Communities Against Drug Addiction, Floyd County Cancer Coalition, Floyd County Family Resource Youth Services Centers, Floyd County Health Department, Floyd County Schools, Floyd County Senior Citizens, Graceway United Methodist Church, Kentucky State Police Post 9, Mountain Regional Prevention Center and Saint Joseph Martin.

Dental and oral health was identified as a particular area of need during focus groups conducted in the community in 2005. In response, the partners launched a dental screening program in collaboration with Floyd County Schools that has grown to include screenings for all students in kindergarten through twelfth grade.

Thanks to a grant from the Appalachian Regional Commission, dental screening and outreach is now being expanded to include adults in Floyd County through events such as the upcoming health fairs. The Appalachian Commission is a federal-state partnership that works for sustainable community and economic development in Appalachia.

The Robert Wood Johnson Foundation and the University of Wisconsin Population Health Institute recently released its fourth annual County Health Rankings, which ranked Floyd County 120th among Kentucky's 120 counties based on a variety of health indicators.

"Though these health rankings show there is much work to be done to improve the health of our county, we have made great strides over the past 10 years to improve access to screening and care for Floyd County residents" said Kathy Stumbo, president of Saint Joseph Martin. "Working together, we can continue to improve our health rankings and create a culture of health in our community."

The County Health Rankings show that how long and how well people live depends on multiple factors beyond just their access to medical care. It examines 25 factors that influence health, including rates of childhood poverty, rates of smoking, obesity levels, teen birth rates, access to physicians and dentists, rates of high school graduation and college attendance, access to healthy foods, levels of physical inactivity, and percentages of children living in single parent households.

For more information on health events and programs at Saint Joseph Martin, call 606.285.6400.

Jubilee set for this Saturday

PAINTSVILLE — As part of the on-going Rural Roots Series, Appalachian Artists Inc. presents a night of Bluegrass music with the return of the Appalachian Jubilee.

The Jubilee is scheduled to take place at the Historic SIPP Theater in Paintsville Saturday, April 6, at 7 p.m. The list of performers include Bluegrass Riot, Black Powder Express, Hammertowne, and 5 Miles from Nowhere.

Blue Grass Riot, known for their traditional bluegrass sound, formed in 2009 with a guitar, a banjo and a dream. Band members include Jared Goforth on banjo, Dustin Newsome on guitar and lead vocals, McKay Vanhoose on bass, Ernie Hurt on mandolin and vocals, and Jordan Spigle on fiddle.

Black Powder Express, from Salyersville, originated from a few friends who would occasionally play music at Magoffin County Muzzleloaders Club functions. A.B. Conley, president of the Muzzleloaders Club, gave the band its name after the handmade black powder rifles that the members of the band shoot at club events. Members include Toddie Preston, Chandler Allen, Jason Preston, Duane Prater and Andrea Preston.

Hammertowne, formed with members from Ashland, Lexington, and Louisa, has an instant connection. In most cases, much forethought, planning, and sometimes recruiting, goes into forming a musical unit, but not in this case. This group of musicians gathered in a studio as session players on a solo effort, and something special transpired. After the stop button had been hit on the first take of the first song, several seconds of complete silence filled the place, until finally from the control room came, "wow."

Members include Scott Tackett, Brent Pack, Chaston Carroll, Doug Burchett, and Dave Carroll.

Five Miles from Nowhere was formed in early 1998 with the original members of Philip Ramey, Brett Ratliff, Aaron Davis, Matt Blanton, and Donald Caudill. They began performing regularly at the Paintsville Recreation Center, where they developed an enormous following. Not long after, they began to make a large amount of public appearances throughout the region with their new bass man, Donnie Witten, despite the loss of Matt Blanton. Since their start, there has been a following of extraordinary success and the group plans to continue catering great bluegrass music to their fans for years to come.

Tickets are available at Paintsville City Hall; for more information, call (606) 789-2600.

Participating sponsors of the Rural Roots Series include Appalachian Wireless, Citizens National Bank, Fairway Signs, Paintsville Tourism and Ramada.

Spring clean and revive your PC

by Kim Komando

Kim Komando hosts the nation's largest talk radio show about consumer electronics, computers and the Internet.

Many folks bring themselves and their homes out of the winter doldrums with a frenzy of spring cleaning and organizing. One area of your house you might neglect, however, is your computer.

Fortunately, cleaning and de-cluttering your PC is easy to do and doesn't take much time. It'll prolong the life of your machine and help you get more work done faster.

That means you can spend more time outside, enjoying the longer, warmer days!

Clean that hardware
Your PC has collected some dust bunnies since its last cleaning. These trap heat and shorten the life of your system.

There there's your keyboard, which probably has a fair amount of bread and potato chip crumbs lodged between the keys. Don't even get me started on the germs your keyboard, mouse and touchpad collect!

Time for some do-it-yourself detailing.

First, turn off your computer or laptop and unplug it. If your keyboard and mouse are wired, unplug them from the computer. If they're wireless, shut them off and remove the batteries.

A few blasts of compressed air should take care of any dust on the keyboard and debris stuck between keys. Next, swab your keyboard and mouse with bleach-free disinfecting wipes to remove grime. You can also use cotton swabs dipped in isopropyl alcohol for a deep clean between the keys.

For your monitor screen, use a soft, slightly damp lint-free cloth. Don't use cleaners that contain ammonia.

If you're confident enough to open up the inside of a PC desktop case, now's a good time to remove dust buildup on the case fans, air vents, motherboard and CPU heatsink and fan. On a laptop, blow compressed air into the intakes along the side.

Zap those viruses

In addition to compromising your privacy, spyware and viruses bog down your PC's performance.

Scan your machine with reputable anti-virus and anti-spyware programs to combat this threat. If you need anti-virus software and spyware remover, visit my Security Center for free programs. Run the scans and remove any threats that pop up.

Remember to update your security programs often so you can stay protected from emerging threats. Weekly scans help, too.

Free up and optimize hard disk space

Windows uses free hard disk space for extra memory. A hard drive that's nearly full will slow down your computer.

First, get rid of temporary Internet and Windows files with the free program CCleaner.

Two more free programs help. Grab Revo Uninstaller to thoroughly remove any programs you don't use anymore. Zap trial software and other unwanted bloatware with PC Decrapifier.

Still bumping up against your hard drive's storage limit? Consider moving your photo, video or music library to an external drive. Use a free disk-visualizing program such as WinDirStat to see what other applications and files are taking up the most space.

Cornerstone Christian Counseling, welcomes new

Exercise program available

INEZ — The Martin County Health Department will offer a free exercise program.

The program began Monday April 1 at the Roy F. Collier Community Center in Inez and every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 10 a.m. until June 7.

The Body Recall Exercise Program classes are normally one hour or less and are designed to reclaim a level of fitness for older adults or individuals with physical challenges.

Body Recall is a total fitness program, and the values of treating every part of the body to more gentle and controlled motion regardless of individual limitations give the opportunity for expanded range of motion leading to recoveries of lost skills, a release from the Martin County Health Department said.

A trained facilitator will lead participants to a new awareness of their physical abilities and offer encouragement to take positive control of daily activities.

Participants will learn ways that promote flexibility, strength, balance, coordination and circulation to the body.

For more information, call the Martin County Health Department at (606)298-7752.

If your PC or laptop has a conventional hard drive - not a solid-state drive - it can benefit from defragmenting. In (Start>>Control Panel, run Disk Defragmenter (Optimize Drives in Windows 8) to consolidate fragmented files and folders and speed up reading and writing to the disk. Also run the Error Checking utility, which scans the drive for bad sectors and file system errors.

Update Windows software The second Tuesday of every month is sort of a holiday for Windows users. It's called Patch Tuesday, and it's the day Microsoft releases updates for Windows. Other tech companies often release patches to coincide with this date, too.

These updates help you keep drivers and service packs up to date. They also fix security holes in Windows and programs like Office and Internet Explorer, which hackers can exploit by sneaking malware onto your PC.

Go to Start>>Control Panel>>All Programs>>Windows Update. It will tell you what updates need to be installed on your computer. Make sure you click the "Check for updates" link to see if the computer is up to date.

If you haven't done so, turn on automatic updates so you get hassle-free protection in the future. You can do this by clicking "Change settings" and choosing "Install updates automatically" in the drop down menu.

Lawrence County ranked 19th in KHSBCA poll

Lawrence County was ranked 19th in the Kentucky High School Baseball Coaches Association Top 25 poll released Tuesday, March 26. The Bulldogs exited the month of March 8-0.

During March, Lawrence County notched wins over Raceland, Prestonsburg, Capitol (W.Va.), Highlands, Fleming County, Belfry, Magoffin County and Huntington. The Bulldogs finished March strong last week, blanking Magoffin County 4-0 on Wednesday (March 27), then defeating host Huntington 3-1 in a road game Thursday.

A 15th Region championship contender, Lawrence County is under the guidance of head coach Travis Feltner. The Bulldogs are currently in Bluffton, SC, competing in the BatR Up Tournament.

Woodford County is at the top of the statewide baseball poll. Frontrunner Woodford County received 13 of 14 first-place votes. The remainder of the poll is made of the following teams: Lexington Catholic (2), Pleasure Ridge Park (3), Bates Creek (4), St. Xavier (5), Henderson County (6), Central Hardin (7), Lexington Christian (8), Harrison County (9), Male (10), West Jessamine (11), Lafayette (12), Russell County (13), Paul Laurence Dunbar (14), Ballard (15), East Jessamine (16), South Warren (17), Lone Oak (18), Lawrence County (19), Newport Central Catholic (20), Bullitt East (21), Union County (22), Madison Central (23), Mercer County (24) and Bowling Green (25).

Tigers double up Rowan Co.

MOREHEAD — The Paintsville Tigers pulled off a win on the road Saturday, defeating host Rowan County 10-5 in a non-district matchup.

Paintsville returned to the win column following a 5-6 loss to 15th Region foe Pike County Central one day earlier. The Tigers notched their fourth win in five outings, improving to 5-3.

Rowan County suffered its sixth straight loss, slipping to 0-6.

Paintsville, under the direction of head coach John Miller, pushed across 10 runs on 14 hits.

The Tigers overcame an early five-run deficit. Rowan County struck first. Following a scoreless first inning, the Vikings scored three runs in the bottom half of the second inning. After adding two more runs in its third plate appearance, Rowan County led 5-0.

Paintsville, however, enjoyed an offensive outburst of its own. The Tigers erupted for seven runs in the top half of the fourth inning. Paintsville moved ahead during its fourth at-bat and never trailed again.

The Tigers added to their lead late in the contest, scoring once in the sixth inning and twice during the seventh.

Taylor Miller started on the mound for Paintsville and pitched the first three innings. Then, Spencer Taylor took over for Paintsville and worked the next two innings. Matt Miller closed the game out for Paintsville, pitching the last two innings. Miller from strong from start to finish in his appearance, holding Rowan County scoreless while only allowing one hit.

Offensively, Brooks Pelphrey, Luke Daniels and Colby Burchett each had two runs for the Tigers.

Miller, Kash Daniel, Brandon Haight and Gabe Burchell also crossed home plate for a run in Paintsville's win.

Daniel delivered two doubles for the Tigers. Miller also had a double for the Paintsville baseball team.

Rowan County plated its five runs on five hits.

Each team committed one error.

Rowan County is scheduled to visit Paintsville on April 20.

Challenger Sports to hold British Soccer Camp in Paintsville

PAINTSVILLE — As the number of soccer players in the USA nears 22 million, the number one soccer company in the United States & Canada, Challenger Sports, has been invited to hold one of its British Soccer Camps in Paintsville.

The Paintsville Recreation Center and Johnson County Youth Soccer Association has teamed up to host the week-long British Soccer Camp June 3-7 at Paintsville Recreation Center, 232 Preston St. in Paintsville.

The camp will run Monday through Friday, and each child will be coached by a member of Challenger's team of 1,100 British soccer coaches flown to the USA exclusively to work on these programs. Challenger Sports will hold over 3,700 Soccer camps this summer and will coach over 140,000 players between the ages of 3 and 19.

Challenger's 1,000 touch-line coaching syllabus provides an innovative daily regimen of foot-skills, moves, juggling, tactical practices & daily tour-namment play. Challenger also weaves lessons on respect, responsibility, integrity, leadership and sportsmanship into the camper's daily routine.

The British Soccer Camp program also provides a unique cultural experience for the players, highlighted in the Camp World Cup. The coaches use this daily tournament to teach the players about life, customs and traditions of other countries. The campers are asked to make up soccer chants, wear the team colors of their country, bring flags and learn as much as they can about the country they represent.

Bonus Saturday morning clinics will be available on goalkeeping and goal scoring for week-lone campers too. Teams are also welcome to attend and receive a week of focused instruction to prepare them for the fall season. For more information, contact Dan at 513-407-6730.

Each camper will receive a free Soccer Camp T-Shirt, a free Soccer Ball, a free giant soccer poster and a personalized skills performance evaluation. In addition, any child who signs up online at least 45 days prior to camp will receive a genuine British soccer replica Jersey valued at $39. Online registration is available at www.challengersports.com.

Space is limited parents are encouraged to sign up on line in advance to avoid disappointment. For more information, contact Scott Hale at: 606-789-2612, or by e-mail at scotthale@cityofpaintsville.net.

Lady Bears sweep Alice Lloyd, fall to Shawnee State

PIKEVILLE — The University of Pikeville softball team swept Alice Lloyd College before being swept by Shawnee State University. The Bears nailed Alice Lloyd 21-4 and swept them 8-3 before falling to Shawnee State 15-0 and 3-2.

Pikeville is scheduled to visit Bluefield College for a double-header on Tuesday. The Mid-South Conference matchups are slated for a 2 p.m. first pitch.

Pikeville vs. Alice Lloyd: After the Lady Eagles scored two in the top of the third to tie the game, the Bears posted 12 in the third and seven more in the fourth to win 21-4.

Sophomore catcher Kayla Brown had a monster game at the plate, going 3-for-4 with four RBI and two runs scored. B.J. Howard, Sierra Kiser, Courtney Morgan and Sarah Belcher all had two hits in the win, while Howard, Belcher, Kayla Morgan, Emily Castle and Logan Cline all joined Brown by scoring two runs.

Cline, Kayla Morgan and Jordyn Hale each drove in a pair.

The recipient of all the offense was Kayla Morgan, who struck out seven in the first four innings for the win.

The Bears scored two in the first inning and added four in the third for an 8-3 win in the second game.

Howard, Castle, Kiser and Kayla Morgan each had two more hits for the Bears. Courtney Morgan had a pair of RBI in the win while Castle scored a pair.

Caitlyn Conley threw the final four innings for the win. She came in relief of Courtney Patrick, who fanned five in three innings of work.

Pikeville vs. Shawnee State

Shawnee State scored three runs in each of the first two innings and then exploded for nine in the fourth to roll to a 15-0 win. Five walks and five errors aided the cause.

Pikeville managed only a single hit in the opener, a second-inning single by Kayla Morgan. She was the pitcher of record for the home team, with half the 14 runs she allowed being unearned.

All the offense in the second game came in the fifth inning of a 3-2 win for Shawnee State. Pikeville committed another five errors, but all three runs were earned.

Each team had four hits, with Sarah Kinney accounting for half of the Bears' safeties with a pair of doubles. She also scored one and drove in the other. Hale and Howard each singled.

JOHNSON CENTRAL HIGH School graduate Jordyn Hale (6) made a play for the University of Pikeville softball team.

THE TRI-STATE Legends Rockstars and Divas ended their 2012-13 season with five first-place finishes, one fifth place, and many individual awards. Coaches are Sabrina Fyffe and Jennifer Pannell. Sponsors are Tri-Span Construction, Leslie Equipment-Pikeville, Louisa Construction, and Blue Line Stream. Jude getting carries in EKU backfield; Kiser moves from QB to tight end

RICHMOND — The Eastern Kentucky University football team went through its third consecutive day of spring practice Thursday afternoon and enjoyed something that has rarely been seen around town lately — sunny skies.

Thursday was the first day EKU put on pads at practice. The team split up into offense versus defense for a few minutes highlighted by running back Caleb Watkins making a big gain off a screen pass.

Perhaps the biggest storyline of spring practice is who will step in at quarterback to replace T.J. Pryor. Jared McClain, who started the 2012 opener for an injured Pryor, is most likely the best bet. The junior threw for 460 yards and ran for another 201 last year while accounting for five touchdowns. Also in the mix at quarterback will be faces to watch on offense this spring. Gone are running back Matt Denham and and red shirt freshmen Kyle Romano and Ben Lawler. Neither of those players saw any action in the fall.

J.J. Jude

There are lots of new faces to watch on offense this spring. Gone are running back Matt Denham and and rushing yards in 2012 while Goard and Bailey combined to rack up 64 percent of wide receivers Tyrone Goard and Cameron Bailey. Denham accounted for 61 percent of Eastern's EKU's receiving yards. Some fresh faces in the backfield include Johnson Central High School graduate J.J. Jude and Jared Sanders, along with Watkins. At wide out, keep an eye on Devin Borders, Joel Brown and Jeff Glover.

Hayden Kiser

Here's just a few returnees have been moved around this spring. Jaucady Rutledge, who was a contributor at wide receiver in 2011, is practicing with the defensive back.

Lawrence County High School graduate Hayden Kiser, who added some depth to the quarterback spot in the fall, is now lining up with the tight ends.

Tight end Matt Lengel is glad to be back on the field. The senior is making a comeback from a knee injury that he suffered in the 2012 opener at Purdue. He is participating in non-contact drills during the spring.
